Nelson, Mark J., Mateas, Michael (2008). Another Look at Search-Based Drama Management. Proceedings of the 32rd AAAI conference on Artificial Intelligence. p.792-797.

Roberts, David L (2008). Computational Influence for Training and Entertainment. Proceedings of the 32rd AAAI conference on Artificial Intelligence. p.1865-1866.

Write a brief analysis of these two articles. The written analysis is due at the beginning of class. I recommend that you make two copies -- one to turn in and another to have on hand during the class discussion. The analysis should include:

- A brief summary of the paper
- A short list of topics that are touched upon by the paper
- The specific contribution that the paper claims to make to the field
- A list of related questions, tasks, issues, or problems that are not covered by the work reported in the paper

Be prepared to share your findings with the class.

Note: These papers are related to David L. Roberts' talk on 23 September.
